

TRUTHSIFT ANALYSIS

BEST PROJECT MANAGEMENT TOOL FOR TEAMS?

Analyse which tool is best for project management for teams. We provide a breakup of different tools, where each tool can be discussed through its own graph.

Each tool is shown by a graph

- 1. Trello - 11 nodes
- 2. Notion - 12 nodes
- 3. Asana - 9 nodes

PARTICIPANTS

There were 24 participants

PROBABILITY LIKELIHOOD

Scoring Parameter(s):

- 1. UI Design
- 2. Free plan limits
- 3. Integrations
- 4. Ease of collaboration

GRAPH	SCORE
1. Trello	92%
2. Notion	90%
3. Asana	75%

GRAPH SNAPSHOT

Trello

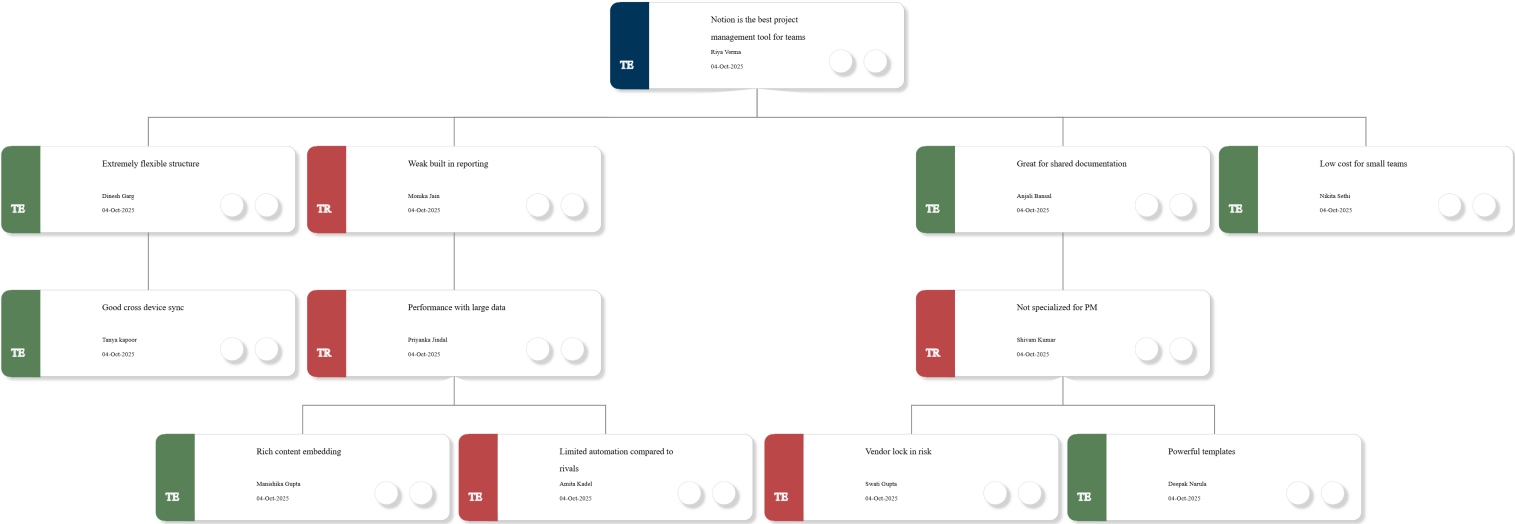

<https://app.truthsift.com/spectate/placeholder/566/17>

GRAPH SNAPSHOT

Notion

<https://app.truthsift.com/spectate/placeholder/567/17>

GRAPH SNAPSHOT

Asana

<https://app.truthsift.com/spectate/placeholder/568/17>

OVERALL VERDICT

"ClickUp - 85%
Monday.com - 80%

1. UI Design:
Trello: 92%
Notion: 90%
Asana: 75%
ClickUp: 85%
Monday.com: 80%

2. Free plan limits:
Trello: 90%
Notion: 85%
Asana: 70%
ClickUp: 80%
Monday.com: 75%

3. Integrations:
Trello: 85%
Notion: 80%
Asana: 75%
ClickUp: 90%
Monday.com: 80%

4. Ease of collaboration:
Trello: 80%
Notion: 85%
Asana: 70%
ClickUp: 90%
Monday.com: 75%

Now, let's analyse each tool based on the provided parameters.

Trello:
Trello scores exceptionally high in UI Design with 92%, making it visually appealing and user-friendly. It also has a strong score of 90% in Free plan limits, allowing users to access a wide range of features without any cost. However, it scores lower in Integrations with 85% and Ease of collaboration with 80%. Overall, Trello is a great choice for teams that prioritize design and free access to features.

Notion:
Notion follows closely behind Trello with a score of 90% in UI Design, making it another visually appealing option. It also has a solid score of 85% in Free plan limits, providing users with a good amount of features for free. Notion excels in Ease of collaboration with 85%, making it a strong contender for teams that prioritize teamwork. However, it has a slightly lower score of 80% in Integrations. Notion is ideal for teams that value design and collaboration.

Asana:
Asana has a lower score of 75% in UI Design, which may not be as visually appealing as other tools. It also has the lowest score of",